 Quotation System

BENCHMARK ≠ FINAL QUOTATION

Six problems the 2026 system fixes.

01

Tier Difference

Packages felt too similar.

02

Scope Creep

Cheap tiers carried too much system scope.

03

Business Positioning

Business and corporate needed a higher class.

04

Government Positioning

Public sector starts at a Rp5JT floor.

05

Enterprise Positioning

ERP / SaaS / Marketplace are products.

06

Sales Enablement

Every tier needs a representative demo.

Pricing principles

Capability and workload—not client size—drive the adjustment.

Outcome First

Capability Upgrade

Benchmark, Not Fixed

Project-Specific

Third-Party Separate

Discovery First

Workload-Based

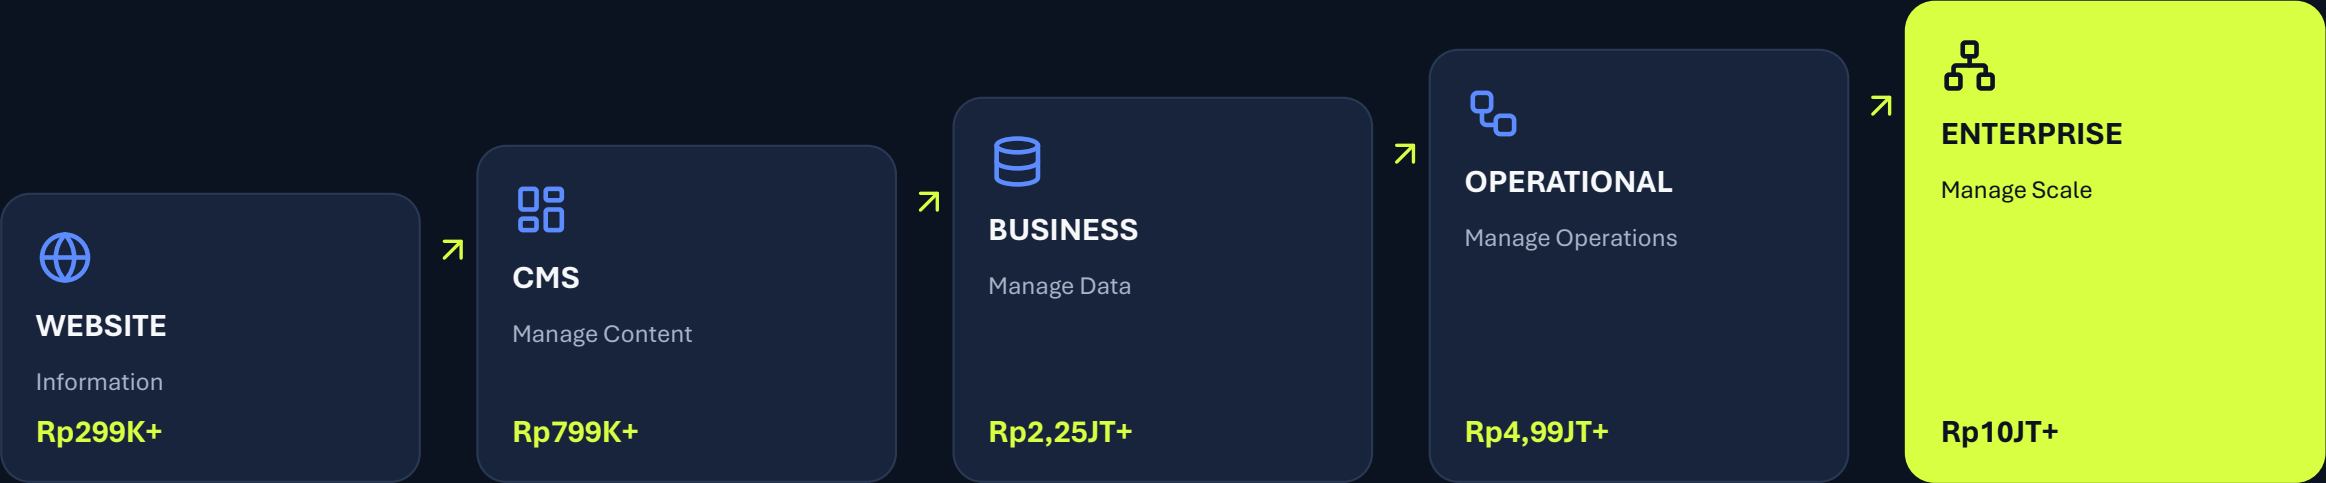

Scope Protection

Adjustment must be justified by workload, risk, stakeholder load, SLA, compliance, or operational impact.

Pricing is based on capability.

What changes is the kind of business problem the product can solve.

Benchmark is not quotation.

BENCHMARK $\neq$ FINAL QUOTE

Benchmark Price

Representative reference scope.

Category Floor

Internal pricing guardrail.

Scope Adjustment

Workload-based variance.

Add-on

Additional capability.

Final Quotation

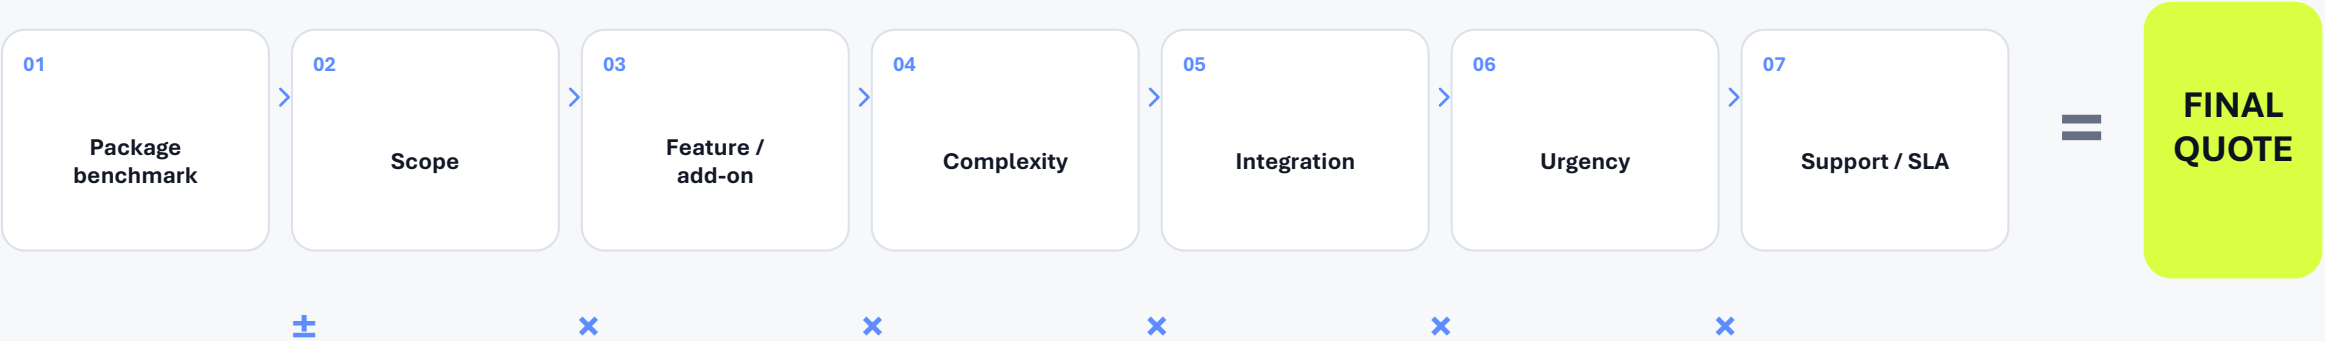

Price after discovery.

Change Request

Requirement after scope freeze.

The pricing engine.

A structured estimation aid—not an automatic calculator.

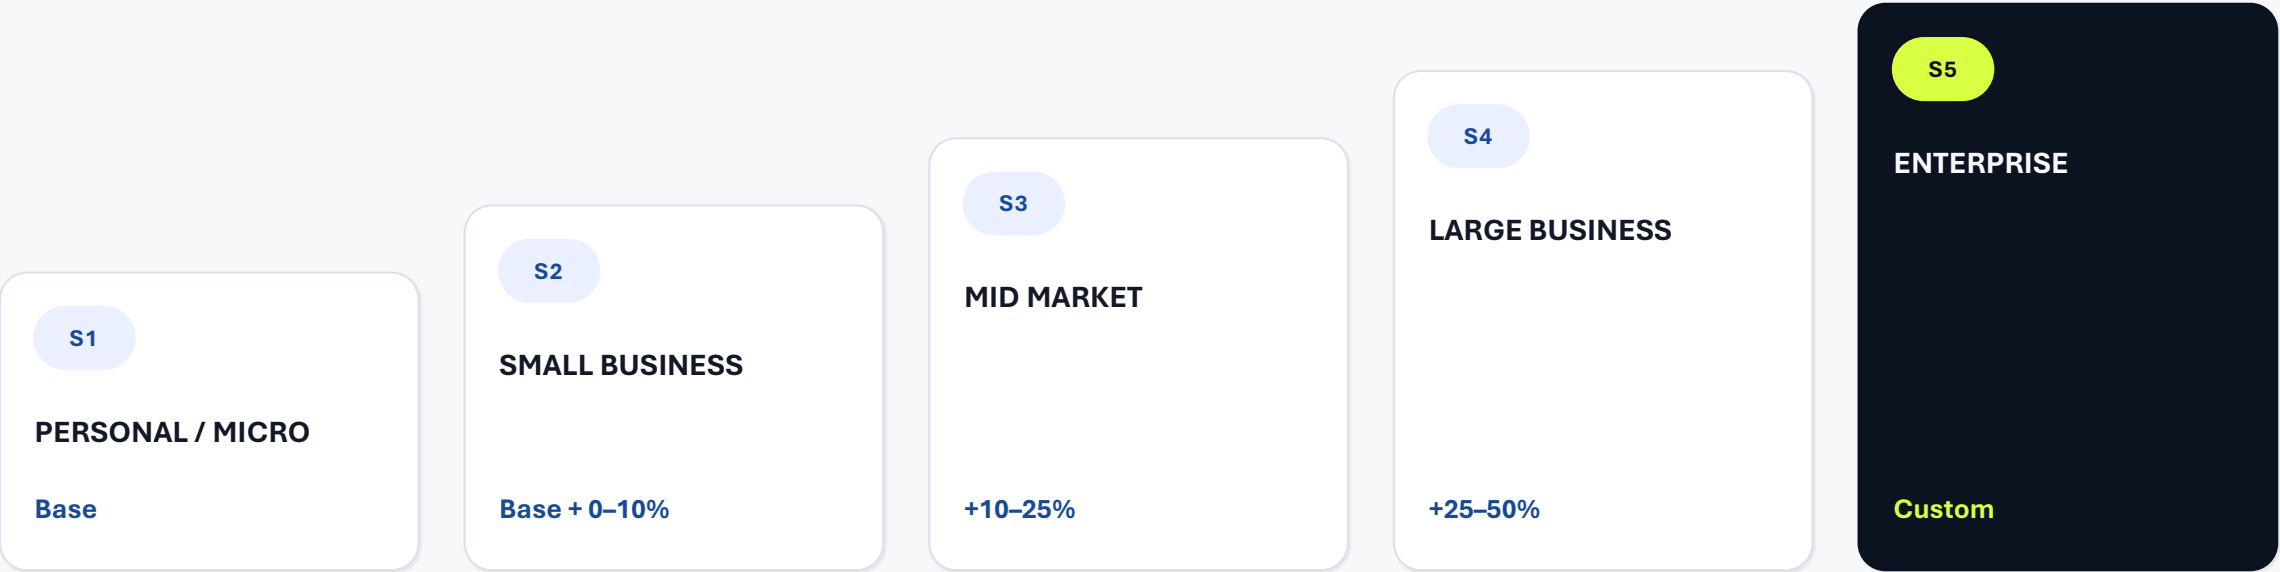

Final price may be below, at, or above benchmark when actual scope justifies it.

Quotation in nine controlled steps.

Client scale informs workload—not automatic markup.

Use only when scale increases actual QA, stakeholder, support, load, risk, or operational impact.

Four tiers of implementation complexity.

A — SIMPLE

1 role

1 workflow

No external integration

B — STANDARD

2–3 roles

Reports + notification

Search / filter

C — ADVANCED

Multi-role

Approval + payment/API

Automation

D — ENTERPRISE

Multi-branch

Audit + security + SLA

High availability

No discovery. No final price.

Nine questions determine the real scope.

 Users & Roles

 Workflow

 Modules

 Data

 Integration

 Security

 Deadline

 Support

 Stakeholders

Also confirm sensitive data, deployment model, source handover, reviewers, and approval authority.

01

WHY THIS TIER?

“ Paket lebih rendah fokus pada informasi/konten. Paket ini sudah masuk database dan workflow operasional—bukan sekadar jumlah halaman. ”

02

PRICE BEFORE SCOPE?

“ Kebutuhan seperti ini mengacu ke paket sekitar RpX. Angka final mengikuti role, workflow, integration, data, timeline, dan scale. ”

03

WHY DIFFERENT FROM BENCHMARK?

“ Pricelist adalah referensi kelas kebutuhan. Final quote mengikuti scope aktual agar client tidak overpay dan delivery tidak under-scoped. ”

Internal framework is ready; public promises still need locks.

Public wording
Lock “Mulai dari” / range.

Pricing authority
Category floor + negotiation authority.

Delivery
Revision + warranty.

Infrastructure
Domain + hosting policy.

Add-ons
Add-on floor.

Support
Maintenance + SLA.

Demo
Ensure P0 demos exist.

NO SCOPE REVIEW
NO FINAL QUOTE

Detail is not removed. Competition for attention is.

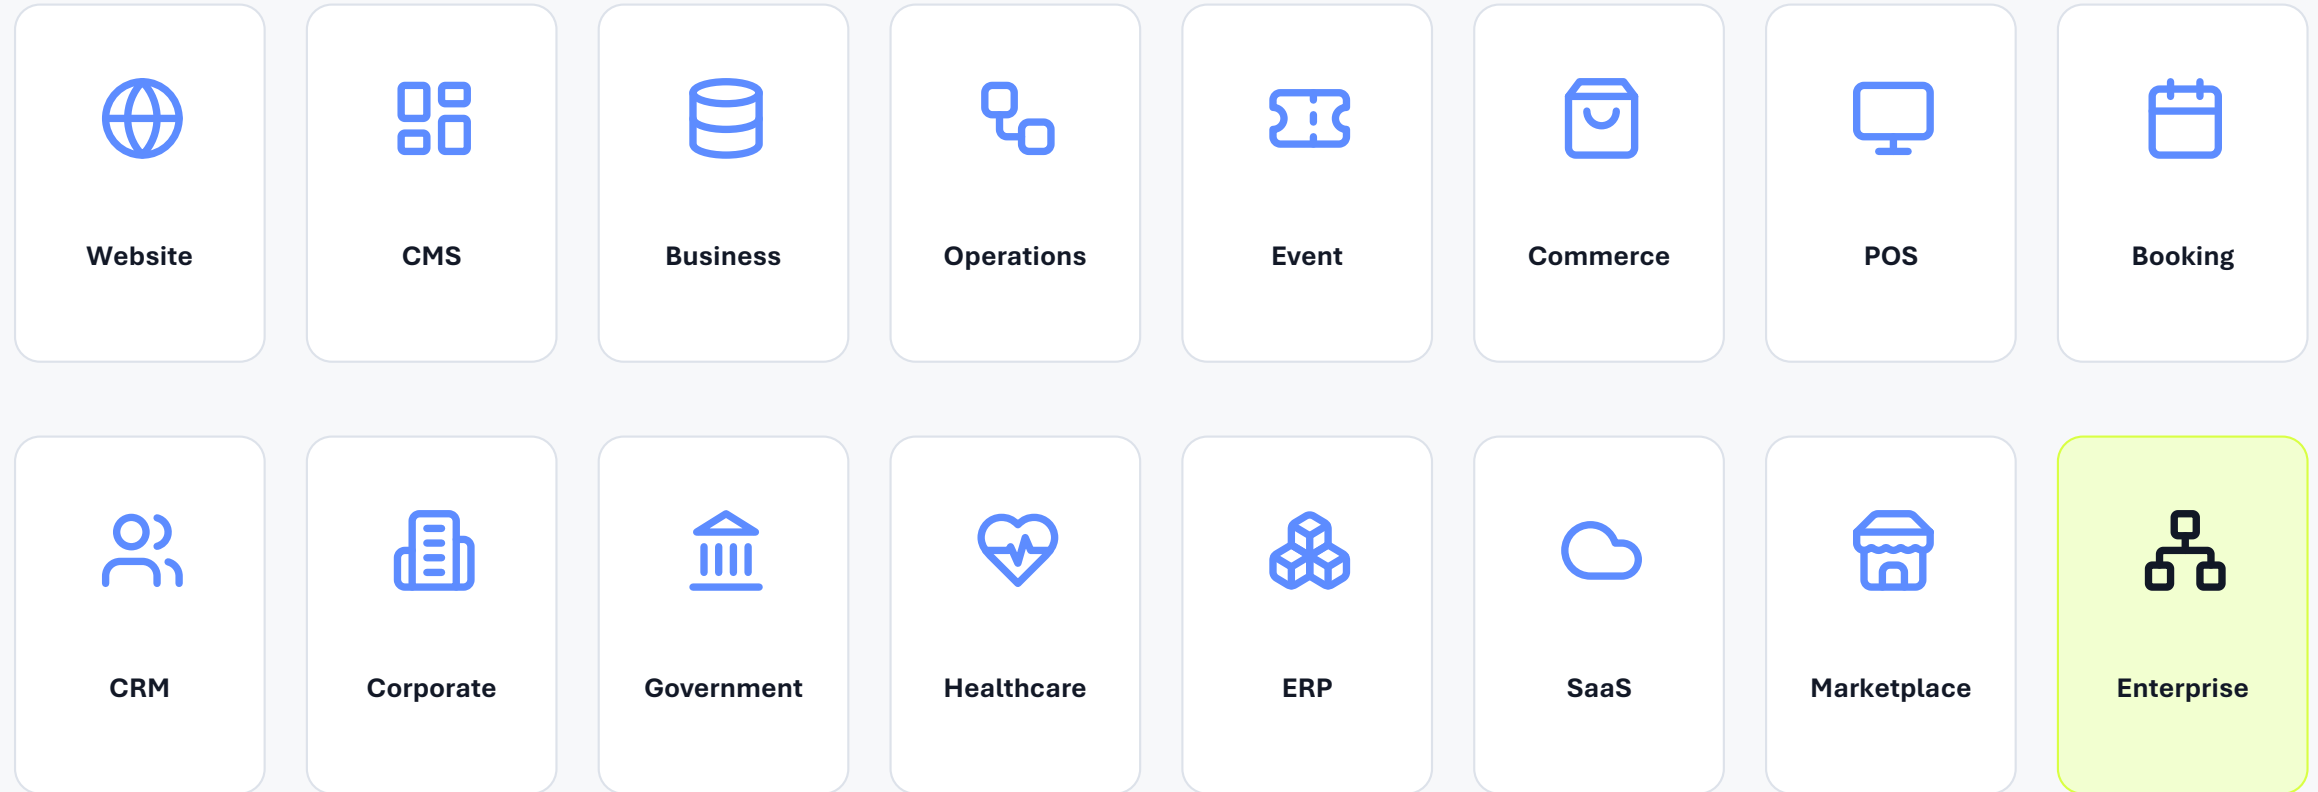

Always answer: what changes when I pay more?

Show the product—not merely its name.

One consistent Lucide vocabulary across the catalogue.

Restrained motion supports hierarchy.

The deck behaves like a business system, not a document.

A Product Catalogue

Not random services.

A Pricing Architecture

Not pricing by feeling.

A Sales System

Not package guessing.

A Demo Strategy

Not promises alone.

A Quotation Framework

Not copy-paste pricing.

An Upgrade Path

Rp299K → Rp25JT+

Packages define the starting point.

Discovery defines the final quotation.
